AVERAGE PRICE OF AUTOMOBILES

New York, Sept. 19.-On interesting tabulation of the average automobile price since 1903, prepared by the American Automobile association, shows that automobile prices rose from 1902 to 1907, but that since that time the price has gradually declined. decline, according to the association's experts, has not been brought about by nay radical reduction in the price of motor cars, but by the great increase in the manufacture and sale of machines selling for $1,500 or less. car selling for $1,500 was rare, while now the greater number of machines sell for under that figure.

The figures show that the trend in manufacturing has been to give m each year for the same sum, rather than to make a cut in the selling price. There has been a tremendous in in the making of what are termed moderate priced cars and a normal and healthy increase in the number of higher priced machines.

From $1,133.37, as the average price for cars in 1903, the average ran up to $2,137.56 in 1907 and since that it has decreased until the first six months of 1910 shows $1,545,83 as the

MAYOR GAYNOR WRITES LETTER TO HIS SISTER

New York, Sept. 19 .- Mayor Gay nor, in a letter to his sister, Miss Mary E. Gaynor, of Utica, N. Y., which is printed in the Evening Post today, ells of his impressions at the time ne was shot on the steamship Kalse Wilhelm der Grosse.

The mayor said he had not received line of what had been published of the shooting, nor did he remember the name of the man who shot him. Mayor

Gaynor wrote:
"I was not a bit afraid to die i that was God's will of me. I said to myself, just as well now as a few years from now. No one who contemplates the immensity of Almighty God and of His universe and His works and realizes what an atom he is in it all, can fear to die in this flesh, yea, even though it were true that he is to be dissolved forever into he infinity of matter and mind from which he came.

"Though these things entered my head that morning, I was not sur-prised when I realized that I was shot. I had a feeling for some week that I might be assaulted on accounof the anonymous threats I was get-ting by mail. I had not received so many nor so regularly since I was opposing the ring corruptions and the McKane conditions in Brooklyn and Gravesend when I was a young man."

Mayor Gaynor, in a letter, scored certain newspapers for the manner in which they had attacked him, saying: "Such journalism is, of course, it absolute defiance of the criminal law and it did enter my mind to publically call on the grand jury and the distric attorney to protect me from it, but I was weak and feared people would say I was thin-skinned. But the time is at hand when these journalistic scoundrels have got to stop or get out, and I am ready now to do my share to that end.

"They are absolutely without souls. If decent people would refuse to look at such newspapers, the thing would right itself at once. The journalist of New York City has been dragged to the lowest depths of degradation The grossest railleries or libels, in stead of honest statements and fair discussion, have gone on unchecked."

The delivery team of the Edgar Jones company played high jinks this morning by breaking away from its moorings at the rear of the grocery store and making a hasty getaway through the narrow alley leading to Grant avenue.

They had approached the intersection of Grant avenue and Twenty fifth street when pedestrians stopped them and turned them over to the driver, who started to drive the ponies back to the loading place. In some way the line became entangled in the sorrel horse's tall and the minaway was renewed with much vigor. The driver could not control the little horses and they made things lively for a minute.

The team dashed across the ave nue diagonally from the St. Louis saloon on the corner, they mounted the curb and fairly flew across the sidewalk, barely missing the plate glass windows immediately north of the Carr drug store in that vicinity Potatoes and sugar sacks were posited promiscuously on the way, the air fairly filled with vinegar ther goods of the grocery store.

hit the Occidentals in Sunday's game at Walker's field, but lost the battle, 3 to 0. The game was stubbornly fought from start to finish and brilliant fielding and base running was done by both sides. Spectacular plays were the order of the day, the Occidentals getting more than their share of circus catches. The game was lost by Murray in the second inning, a long triple by Langley doing the work. All of the rest of the game both teams played shut out ball. The only hits secured by the Occidentals were scattered over the first three innings. After that McCreary was invincible.

Mooney pitched his usual brilliant game. He allowed five hits, but did not allow more than one an inning. He was always perfect when a hit meant a run.

Robinson's work at second was one of the features of the game. He covered an immense amount of territory In the concluding inning he made a spectacular one-hand running catch of a line drige and earlier in the game assisted in a double. McAdoo made a sensational double unassisted. He went up in the air and pulled a long drive down from the clouds, recover ing his bag quickly and retiring a sec ond man. Means made a pretty running catch of a long drive to left field while Margetts nailed two hard ones in right. Langley qualified as the star base runner by stealing home. Langford got one of the three hits for the Occidentals in the first inning. He promptly stole second but the side was retired before he got farther. In the second McCreary pass-ed McAdoo, who was first up. Mooned McAdoo, who was first up. ey bunted to sacrifice McAdoo to sec Kaefer fielded the ball and the pitcher ran to first. However, Mc Creary failed to cover the sack and Mooney was safe, while McAdoo reached second. Black bunted to sac-rifice. Mooney was caught at second However, McAdoo reached third and Black promptly stole second

Then Langley drove a long one to right field that got lost in the grass. While Margetts was looking for the ball, McAdoo and Black scored and Langley reached third. Black signalled a hit and run play and Laugley got away from third as the ball left the pitcher and reached home safely just as Hawkins struck out. There were many who thought that Langle Hawkins stepped between the pitcher and catcher, interfering with the catcher. However, the ball was a pitched ball and it was the catcher who was out of place and not the batter. Had the ball been thrown home to catch the runner the pitcher should have stepped out of his box. In that event Hawkins and Langley should have returned to third. I'mpire Nevins was right in his decision the bleachers to the contrary notwith

McCready then steadled down and not an Occidental reached second base in the remaining seven innings. Only two got to first. In the third innnig after two men were out Claude Burns drove out a nice single, but got no further than first. The next eighteen men to face McCready went promptly out. An error by Plake in the ninth permitted McAdoo to reach first, but he was promptly nipped trying to

NEW SILVER-GOLD FIND EXCITES TONOPAH

Tonopah, Sept. 18.-News of a new find of ore in the immediate vicinity of Cedar Corrals, within eighteen miles of Tonopah, east, created a small stampede of prospectors to the new discovery. The prospecting work consists of a trench twenty feet in length on the croppings, which are between three and one-half and four feet wide. The strike was made by J. J. Clark and Ed Johnson of Silver Bow. Charles Glenn and Elmer Damon of the same place have secured a num-ber of promising adjoining claims, on which they have started to do assess ment work. The hens and domesticated ducks were attracted to the straw on which the sick ducks had Soon they began to around about the hen yard and one morning a dozen hens were found dead. That day numerous hens died from the disease. In playing with the dead teal the fox terrier at a portion of one of them. He immediately be-came sick. The dog was stricken with paralysis of his hind legs and while n a pitiable condition Mr. Olsen ended his misery by sending a bullet through his head. The straw, which had doubtless been infected, was thrown out of the hen-yard. It attracted the attention of the donkey and because a donkey can eat anything he was permitted to feed on the straw. Saturday morning the donkey began to stagger about the Olson premises, refusing to eat. His condition grew worse until Mr. Olsen killed him to relieve him of his misery. Immediately after he had learned the condition of the donkey, Mr Olsen disinfected the henhouse and since then the condition of his fowl has been improved. Mr. Olsen, who has for years been enhtusiastic over duck hunting, in "The trip was worse than I thought it would be," said Larsen, "but I am not hurt and I will do it again some time with another boat. My leg was jammed when she tipped over, but that's all. The engine worked fine through the rapids and I could have made the trip in half an hour if it had not stopped after leaving the whiri-
